

In Concert!

Unity on Greenville, 3425 Greenville Ave. Dallas 75206

SATURDAY, JANUARY 9, 2010

7:30 pm

No Cover - Donations Accepted

Love duets "Falling" and "Just in Time" would sound equally at home on radio or stage, and both showcase the couple's soaring voices and uncanny knack for seamlessly trading lead vocals and creating hand-in-glove harmonies." - Mark Davis, The Advocate

"Jason and deMarco have a way of touching people's hearts through their music and reminding them of the best that life has to offer"

- Next Magazine

Jason & deMarco are independent artists and songwriters who have spent the last seven years touring the U.S. and abroad performing over 100 concerts per year. Their music focuses on every day challenges, relationships, and the kind of struggles that we all identify with; yet they have the courage to write from a personal place, unapologetic and proud of who they are, without compromising their principles.

Jason & deMarco and their band have created their own signature sound combining their haunting melodies and breathtaking harmonies with strummy guitar acoustic pop/folk arrangements of covers as well as their original hit songs. Together, Jason & deMarco's vocal harmonies are mesmerizing, unified by transcendent and uplifting lyrics making their appeal multi-generational, touching most everyone who hears them.

Jason and deMarco are the Contemporary Worship leaders at Unity in Houston and travel one to two weekends per month holding concerts around the country. Jason is also a Next Generation Unity (NGU) consultant for the South Central Unity Churches Association (www.southcentralngu.com). "I am honored and excited about being involved in Next Generation Unity on a regional level. I believe this is the time for our generation to step in to our spiritual calling and heal our planet. I look forward to meeting so many of you! I am at your service to help grow and transform our movement," Jason says.

Their autobiographical and controversial, documentary-film, We're All Angels, from director Robert Nunez, currently airing on the SHOWTIME NETWORK and coming to MTV's LOGO Television in April 2010, is now available on DVD at major retailers, and invites fans to take a behind-the-scenes look at the public and private lives of these rising pop stars, who are gay, spiritual, and in love. The film chronicles the lives of the two singers as they perform all over the country in dance clubs, at pride events, and even in churches. The movie takes a look at how their openness about their sexuality often pits them against evangelical Christianity, while their faith at times meets with resistance from the gay community.

www.jasonanddemarco.com

www.southcentralngu.com

www.dallasunity.org